(1) Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Dongwon Securities America, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated on April 18, 2000 under the laws of the State of Delaware to conduct a securities business in the United States. The Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Dongwon Securities Co., Ltd. (the Parent), a Korean corporation, is a registered broker and dealer in securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD) since January 23, 2001.

The Company engages primarily in broker and dealer transactions of Korean securities, and the underwriting of Korean debt and equity securities. Its principal customers are institutions in the U.S. investing in the emerging markets. The major source of income is commission income from its brokerage services.

The Company has a clearing agreement with its Parent whereby the Parent clears Korean securities transactions for the Company and its customers and carries such accounts on a fully disclosed basis as customers of the Parent. Accordingly, the Company does not carry customers' accounts and does not receive, deliver, or hold cash or securities in connection with such transactions.

(a) Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with original maturities of three months or less at the time of purchase to be cash equivalents.

(b) Depreciation

Furniture and fixtures, office equipment, and automobile are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives.

(d) Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

(d) Use of Estimates in the Preparation of a Statement of Financial Condition

The preparation of a statement of financial condition in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the statement of financial condition. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Less accumulated depreciation	(31,150)
	$ 34,225

(4) Income Taxes

At March 31, 2004, the Company had net deferred tax assets of approximately $89,000. The tax effects of each type of temporary difference that gave rise to a significant portion of the deferred tax assets as of March 31, 2004 are net operating loss carryforwards trading losses. The net deferred tax assets are included in the other assets in the accompanying balance sheet. The valuation allowance for deferred tax assets as of March 31, 2004 was $-0-. There was no change in the valuation allowance for the year ended March 31, 2004.

The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, the projected future taxable income, and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based upon the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences.
